NEWARK STUDENTS MEET WITH PRESIDENT CLINTON

(New York – May 5, 2009) Two 8th graders from Link Community School, an independent school located in the Central Ward of Newark, met tonight with President William Jefferson Clinton, the 42nd President of the United States. Along with their school principal, Ms. Marnie G. McKoy, the students, Jed-Joan Edziah and Quinn Saffold, attended an invitation-only reception for the former president and his Clinton Foundation at the St. Regis Hotel in New York City.

At the event, Mr. Clinton spoke about the work of his non-profit foundation which, through the Clinton Global Initiative, addresses the issues of poverty alleviation, global health - particularly AIDS/HIV and malaria, childhood obesity, clean water, economic empowerment, and education. Ms. McKoy and the students were invited by the reception host and friend of Link, Mr. Charles Myers.
